In the first chapter, Beah describes how he felt about war at the age of ten. "The only wars I knew of were those that I had read about in books or seen in movies . . . , and the one in neighboring Liberia that I had heard about on the BBC news." Like many of his future readers, Beah knew nothing about war except what he had heard, watched, or read about. By spending time showing the peaceful ...

Here's one that makes you say, "Don't blink, time passes too quickly." Back in 2008, Southside Johnny, the godfather of blue-eyed soul from the Jersey Shore, produced a DIY pet project—him, singing the songs of Tom Waits with a big band. It was an ambitious project, probably too ambitious for the DIY nature of this beast. But he did it, and it turned out to be a beautiful beast—the ...
